

Learning Journal 10.3.17

This week....we have so much to tell you about. We had a special visitor from Uganda, we went to see the Lego Dinosaurs at Woodhorn, which was amazing and we made fossils and planted the first part of our new school garden. WOW!

First of all, we had a visit from Moses Kiwala who is the head teacher of three schools in Uganda. He told us all about his schools and how they were different from schools in England. The children were amazed to hear that Ugandan children have no electricity for lighting or technology and that they get a school dinner once a week on a Friday. Even the youngest children walk 5 to 6 dangerous miles to school and back and many are HIV orphans. Moses was equally amazed by how lucky our children are and he quickly made friends with all the children. Gabby Mcaleaney has set up a crowd funding page on facebook if you would like to contribute to supporting the schools in Uganda.

Other news.....The dinosaurs at Woodhorn were fantastic and all the children had a lovely day out. Their behaviour was excellent and we enjoyed spending a day outside the classroom with them. Thanks to all the volunteers who make it possible to take children out on days like this. Please share the photos with your child and let them tell you all about their day.

No wonder we all fell asleep on the bus home.

Next week we are going to have lots of challenges involving Lego and dinosaurs!

Reception will also have height and weight checks on Monday morning.
